

So this whole experience has been really interesting. I had an extremely hard time getting my image to appear the proper way. They only seem to work in Brave Browser and chrome with the link paths. Honestly all of the colors and font and font sizes were the same. The only difference was for Firefox the images wouldn't show up, despite showing on the other browsers. The links were all uniform as well.